

CIPFA Statement on # the role of the head of internal audit

in Public Service Organisations

(2019 edition)

CIPFA, the Chartered Institute of Public Finance and Accountancy, is the professional body for people in public finance. Our 14,000 members work throughout the public services, in national audit agencies, in major accountancy firms, and in other bodies where public money needs to be effectively and efficiently managed.

As the world's only professional accountancy body to specialise in public services, CIPFA's qualifications are the foundation for a career in public finance. We also champion high performance in public services, translating our experience and insight into clear advice and practical services.

Globally, CIPFA shows the way in public finance by standing up for sound public financial management and good governance.

Head of internal audit

The executive responsible for the organisation's internal audit service, including drawing up the internal audit strategy and annual plan and giving the annual audit opinion. This could be someone from another organisation where internal audit is contracted out or shared with others. In PSIAS this role is referred to as the chief audit executive.

\ introduction

The head of internal audit (HIA) occupies a critical position in any organisation, helping it to achieve its objectives by evaluating the effectiveness of governance, risk management and internal control arrangements and playing a key role in promoting good corporate governance. The aim of this Statement is to set out the role of the HIA in public service organisations and to help ensure organisations engage with and support the role effectively.

The UK Public Sector Internal Audit Standards (PSIAS) provide clear standards for internal audit but heads of internal audit in the public services face challenges ensuring professional standards are maintained and their internal audit teams remain effective. One key reason for this is that the organisation in which they operate has a direct impact on the resources, scope and authority given to internal audit. While HIAs must step up and deliver a professional service to the best of their ability, it is important to recognise this responsibility does not lie solely with the HIA. As one of the setters of the PSIAS, CIPFA considers it essential that public service organisations properly support their internal auditors to enable them to meet the standards.

For this reason it is critical that the CIPFA statement sets out not only the responsibilities of the HIA but also those of the organisation. CIPFA champions good governance and strong public financial management in public services and believes internal audit has an essential role to play in supporting those objectives. CIPFA considers that HIAs need recognition for their contributions, together with support and encouragement. For these reasons we believe the time is right for an updated CIPFA Statement.

Many heads of internal audit have already risen to the challenges and so alongside the updated CIPFA Statement we are publishing examples of how they are putting principles into practice, providing excellent support and assurance to their organisations and clients. We hope the Statement and this resource will both inspire and support internal audit going forward.

This edition ensures there is alignment to the PSIAS 2017. It explicitly links to the Core Principles for the Professional Practice of Internal Auditing, helping to demonstrate how the HIA role supports internal audit effectiveness.

The intended audience for this statement is not just HIAs in the public services. It should be read by all those with a leadership role in public bodies and by members of audit committees. CIPFA recommends those bodies evaluate their organisational arrangements for internal audit and consider the extent to which they align to the principles. We hope it will be the basis of conversations between the HIA, the leadership team and the audit committee and that the vital role of the HIA is given its due recognition and support.

Let's create the conditions in which heads of internal audit and their teams can thrive.

status of the CIPFA Statement

The Statement is principle-based and should be relevant to all public service organisations and their HIAs. It is intended to be helpful to a wide audience including leadership teams, chief executives, audit committees and other stakeholders as well as HIAs themselves.

We believe organisations should see the Statement as best practice and use it to support their HIA arrangements and drive up audit quality and governance arrangements.

We also commend the Statement to individual internal audit professionals. It articulates the core responsibilities of the HIA, as well as the personal and professional skills that they need.

The CIPFA Statement and the Public Sector Internal Audit Standards

The Relevant Internal Audit Standard Setters (RIASS)<sup>1</sup> mandate the PSIAS for their respective areas of responsibility in the public services. They work together to agree standards taking advice from the Internal Audit Standards Advisory Board.

In PSIAS, as in the International Professional Practices Framework, the term chief audit executive is used to describe the role of the person responsible for managing internal audit. CIPFA has decided to use the more familiar term head of internal audit for the benefit of the wider readership of this Statement.

Statement approach and structure

The Statement sets out the five principles that define the core activities and behaviours that belong to the role of the HIA in public service organisations and the organisational arrangements needed to support them. Successful implementation of each of the principles requires the right ingredients in terms of:

- the organisation
- the role
- the individual.

For each principle the Statement sets out the organisation's responsibilities to ensure HIAs are able to operate effectively and perform their core duties. The Statement also sets out the core responsibilities of the HIA, consistent with PSIAS. Where responsibilities are delegated the nominated HIA retains overall accountability.

Summaries of personal skills and professional standards then detail the leadership competencies and technical expertise organisations can expect from their HIA. These include the requirements of CIPFA and the other professional bodies' codes of ethics and the PSIAS Code of Ethics to which the HIA is bound. The personal skills support all five principles and are shown together, providing a handy reference for the person specification of the HIA.

<sup>1</sup> The Relevant Internal Audit Standard Setters are: HM Treasury in respect of central government; the Scottish Government, the Department of Finance and Personnel Northern Ireland and the Welsh Government in respect of central government and the health sector in their administrations; the Department of Health in respect of the health sector in England (excluding Foundation Trusts); and the Chartered Institute of Public Finance and Accountancy in respect of local government across the UK.

The Principles

The head of internal audit in a public service organisation plays a critical role in delivering the organisation's strategic objectives by:

- 1 objectively assessing the adequacy and effectiveness of governance and management of risks, giving an evidence-based opinion on all aspects of governance, risk management and internal control
- 2 championing best practice in governance and commenting on responses to emerging risks and proposed developments.

To perform this role the head of internal audit must:

- 3 be a senior manager with regular and open engagement across the organisation, particularly with the leadership team and with the audit committee
- 4 lead and direct an internal audit service that is resourced appropriately, sufficiently and effectively
- 5 be professionally qualified and suitably experienced.

\ principle 1

The head of internal audit (HIA) plays a critical role in delivering the organisation's strategic objectives by objectively assessing the adequacy and effectiveness of governance and management of risks, giving an evidence-based opinion on all aspects of governance, risk management and internal control.

The UK Public Sector Internal Audit Standards (PSIAS) set out the mission of internal audit which is to 'enhance and protect organisational value by providing risk-based and objective assurance, advice and insight'. They also set out Core Principles for the Professional Practice of Internal Auditing which taken as a whole articulate internal audit effectiveness.

The following core principles are of particular relevance for Principle 1 of the CIPFA Statement:

- Provides risk based assurance.
- Is objective and free from undue influence (independent).
- Aligns with the strategies, objectives, and risks of the organisation.

Organisational responsibilities

To enable the HIA to fulfil their role the leadership team should ensure they:

- set out the responsibilities of the leadership team for internal audit
- establish an internal accountability and assurance framework including how internal audit works with other providers of assurance
- set out how the framework of assurance supports the annual governance statement and identify internal audit's role within it. The HIA should not be responsible for the statement
- set out the responsibilities of the HIA and ensure the independence of the role is preserved. If additional responsibilities are taken on then appropriate safeguards should be put in place
- ensure internal audit is independent of external audit
- establish clear lines of reporting of the HIA to the leadership team and to the audit committee
- ensure the HIA reports in their own right and that the annual internal audit opinion and report are issued in the name of the HIA
- ensure the internal audit charter and plan are approved by the audit committee in accordance with the PSIAS.

Core HIA responsibilities

To fulfil Principle 1 the HIA should:

- ensure that internal audit's work is risk-based and aligned to the organisation's strategic objectives and will support the annual internal audit opinion
- identify where internal audit assurance will add the most value or do most to facilitate improvement
- produce an evidence-based annual internal audit opinion on the overall adequacy and effectiveness of the organisation's framework of governance, risk management and control.

Commentary

Independence and objectivity

The leadership team is responsible for the organisation achieving its objectives and for the underlying governance arrangements and effective frameworks of risk management and internal control. The HIA's unique role is to evaluate these arrangements and provide independent assurance on their effectiveness. So it is important that the HIA is independent of operational management and is seen to provide objective views and opinions. Where the HIA has responsibilities beyond internal audit the risks to independence must be recognised and adequate safeguards need to be approved by the audit committee and put in place to protect independence and objectivity.

Broad scope of assurance

The leadership team needs regular assurance that the organisation has good governance arrangements and is effectively managing its risks. The assurance framework that provides this will have a number of sources including a clearly defined management accountability framework, performance management and risk management, together with internal compliance functions such as legal, HR and health and safety. Assurance is also available from external inspectors and agencies and external auditors. Some organisations use the 'three lines of defence' model to explain these relationships. Setting out this framework of assurance should also help in explaining to others how internal audit fits into the wider governance picture.

The annual HIA opinion is on the overall adequacy and effectiveness of the organisation's framework of governance, risk management and control in accordance with PSIAS. It is the most important output from the HIA and is one of the main sources of objective assurance that chief executives and the leadership team have for their annual governance statement. The HIA opinion is unique within the wider assurance framework in that it is independent and objective and in accordance with professional standards. This opinion must reflect the work done during the year and it must summarise the main findings and conclusions together with any specific concerns the HIA has. To build a robust opinion on the adequacy of the governance, risk and control framework the HIA will need to review and if appropriate place reliance on the work of others.

Evidence-based assurance

The HIA's opinion must be well founded if it is to give proper assurance to the organisation and improve governance and control arrangements. This means internal audit planning must be well focused and in accordance with professional standards.

The HIA may look to the work of other functions, partner organisations and other agencies as evidence for their assurance. Here the HIA must understand the basis for their assurances and its adequacy and whether the HIA needs to carry out any additional review work. A summary of assurances given and relied upon should be included in the HIA's annual report.

One of the HIA's key relationships must be with the external auditor. The role of the external auditor is to provide an opinion on the financial statements of the organisation together with wider reporting on value for money or best value. The external auditor will share internal audit's interest in the governance risk and control environment and both auditors should share their plans and findings on a regular basis.

Develop and implement a risk-based audit approach

Risk management is key to the effective delivery of public services. Organisations are becoming more mature in how they identify, evaluate and manage risks and opportunities. The HIA should encourage the organisation to improve its approach to risk management and the HIA opinion on the adequacy and effectiveness of risk management will provide assurance on an annual basis.

The audit plan must identify the priorities for internal audit based on an assessment of the key risks to organisational objectives and the extent of alternative sources of assurance, as well as the resources and skills needed to deliver it. Responsibility for effective governance, risk management and control arrangements remains with the organisation; the HIA cannot be expected to prevent or detect all weaknesses or failures in internal control nor can the internal audit plan cover all areas of risk across the organisation.

\ principle 2

The head of internal audit (HIA) in a public service organisation plays a critical role in delivering the organisation's strategic objectives by championing best practice in governance and commenting on responses to emerging risks and proposed developments.

The UK Public Sector Internal Audit Standards set out Core Principles for the Professional Practice of Internal Auditing which taken as a whole articulate internal audit effectiveness. The following core principles are of particular relevance for Principle 2 of the CIPFA Statement:

- Aligns with the strategies, objectives, and risks of the organisation.
- Is insightful, proactive, and future-focused.
- Promotes organisational improvement.

Organisational responsibilities

To enable the HIA to fulfil their role the leadership team should ensure that they:

- establish top level commitment to the principles of good governance, recognising its importance for achieving strategic objectives
- set out the HIA's role in good governance and how this fits with the role of others
- recognise and support the role internal audit can play in providing advice and consultancy internally
- ensure that the HIA has the opportunity to advise on or provide assurance on all major projects, programmes and policy initiatives
- take account of the HIA's advice in new and developing systems.

Core HIA responsibilities

To fulfil Principle 2 the HIA should:

- work with others in the organisation to promote and support good governance
- help the organisation understand the risks to good governance
- give advice to the leadership team and others on the control arrangements and risks relating to proposed policies, programmes and projects
- promote the highest standards of ethics and standards across the organisation based on the principles of integrity, objectivity, competence and confidentiality
- demonstrate the benefits of good governance for effective public service delivery and how the HIA can help
- offer advisory or consulting services where appropriate
- give advice on risk and internal control arrangements for new and developing systems, including major projects, programmes and policy initiatives whilst maintaining safeguards over independence.

Commentary

Promoting good governance

Good governance is fundamental to establishing confidence in public services. All managers have a responsibility for exercising good governance but the HIA can promote the principles of good governance across the organisation through their assurance and advisory work, encouraging good practice. This is consistent with the Core Principles for the Professional Practice of Internal Auditing. The internal audit charter sets out the scope of internal audit activities and provides the opportunity to outline how the HIA will fulfil this role.

Good governance is core to achieving strategic aims and demonstrating that public money is used well. The HIA can support the leadership team in establishing, maintaining and improving governance by promoting the benefits of good governance, interpreting and advising on the application of governance principles as well as reporting on governance risks. There are also benefits for the HIA in taking such an approach as this helps staff and the audit committee see the wider purpose of internal audit's work and the support they can provide. While the HIA is not responsible for the organisation's public report on governance, the HIA can provide support to ensure the assessment is robust and the statement itself is effective.

The HIA should understand the range of risks to good governance the organisation faces, such as entering into new collaborative arrangements, managing resource pressures or taking on new statutory responsibilities. The HIA should then assess how best to support good governance and organisational improvement.

Advising on proposed developments

The HIA will seek to ensure the work of internal audit is aligned to the organisation's strategic goals and governance responsibilities. To facilitate this HIAs must be asked to consider the impact of proposed policy initiatives, programmes and projects as well as responses to emerging risks. HIAs should be made aware of major new systems and proposed initiatives such as new collaborative or commercial arrangements to help ensure risks are properly identified and evaluated and appropriate controls built in. Managers and the HIA must therefore be clear on the scope of any internal audit work here and of the kind of advice that is given to ensure the independence of other audit work and the HIA annual opinion is not compromised.

\ principle 3

The HIA must be a senior manager with regular and open engagement across the organisation, particularly with the leadership team and with the audit committee.

The UK Public Sector Internal Audit Standards set out core principles for the Professional Practice of Internal Auditing which taken as a whole articulate internal audit effectiveness. The following core principles are of particular relevance for Principle 3 of the CIPFA Statement:

- Is objective and free from undue influence (independent).
- Is appropriately positioned and adequately resourced.

Organisational responsibilities

To enable the HIA to fulfil their role the leadership team should:

- designate a named individual as HIA in line with the principles in this Statement. The individual could be someone from another organisation where internal audit is contracted out or shared. Where this is the case then the roles of the HIA and the client manager must be clearly set out in the contract or agreement
- ensure that where the HIA is an employee they report functionally to a member of the leadership team. The HIA should be sufficiently senior and independent within the organisation's structure to allow them to carry out their role effectively and be able to provide credibly constructive challenge to management
- engage constructively with the HIA and facilitate their role throughout the organisation
- ensure the audit committee terms of reference<sup>2</sup> includes oversight of internal audit including the monitoring of adherence to professional standards
- ensure the HIA's reporting relationship with the audit committee and its chair as set out in the internal audit charter is applied
- ensure the organisation's governance arrangements give the HIA:
  - direct access to the chief executive, other leadership team members, the audit committee and external audit; and
  - attendance at meetings of the leadership team and management team when the HIA considers this to be appropriate
- set out unfettered rights of access for internal audit to all papers and all people in the organisation, as well as appropriate access in arms-length bodies
- set out the HIA's responsibilities relating to organisational partners including collaborations and outsourced and shared services.

<sup>2</sup> In Local Government and Police CIPFA's Position Statement and supporting guidance include examples of audit committee terms of reference, including the committee's responsibilities for internal audit. Audit Committee Practical Guidance for Local Government and Police, CIPFA, 2018

To fulfil Principle 3 the HIA should:

- ensure the internal audit charter clearly establishes appropriate reporting lines that facilitate engagement with the leadership team and audit committee
- escalate any concerns about maintaining independence through the line manager, chief executive, audit committee and leadership team or external auditor as appropriate
- contribute to the review of audit committee effectiveness, advising the chair and relevant managers of any suggested improvements
- consult stakeholders, including senior managers and non-executive directors/elected representatives on internal audit plans.

Commentary

Senior manager

Heads of internal audit face increasing challenges and higher expectations from stakeholders, especially in helping organisations look forward. Regardless of how the internal audit is provided the HIA must be able to operate at the heart of the organisation, challenging and supporting the leadership team with authority and credibility. They should also be seen as a leader, promoting improvement and good governance. To do this effectively, make an impact and add value, the HIA position must be at a senior management level.

The HIA must also have unfettered access to key people across the organisation, especially to the chief executive, leadership team and audit committee chair.

The HIA role must be filled by a named individual so that all are clear about lines of responsibility. Where the service is provided in-house this should be straightforward. Where the service is contracted out or shared with others then the organisation must decide whether the HIA should come from within the organisation or from the supplier of the audit service. In the latter case the relationship between the HIA and the organisation, including the audit committee, must be clearly set out and arrangements made to ensure there is adequate access and visibility of the HIA to the leadership team. In practice it is likely that the HIA will be the person who is responsible for drawing up the internal audit charter and plan, issuing the HIA annual internal audit opinion and engaging with the audit committee.

Engagement with the leadership team

The leadership team in public service organisations takes many forms, with different mixes of executive and non-executive members, as well as elected representatives. Collectively the leadership team is responsible for setting the strategic direction for the organisation, its implementation and the delivery of public services. The HIA must also have a right of access to individual members of the leadership team and should expect the support of the team consistent with reporting relationships set out in PSIAS.

Wherever the HIA is in the organisational structure the HIA will need to ensure and demonstrate adequate independence and objectivity. A senior position supports this, alongside appropriate safeguards if they have other management responsibilities.

Engagement with the audit committee

The HIA's relationship with the audit committee, and especially the chair, is crucial. They should be mutually supportive in their aim to be objective and to provide challenge and support across the organisation and improve governance, risk management and internal control. The HIA must work closely with the audit committee chair so that they are clear about their respective roles and make best use of internal audit.

\ principle 4

The HIA must lead and direct an internal audit service that is resourced appropriately, sufficiently and effectively.

The UK Public Sector Internal Audit Standards set out Core Principles for the Professional Practice of Internal Auditing which taken as whole articulate internal audit effectiveness. The following core principles are of particular relevance for Principle 4 of the CIPFA Statement:

- Demonstrates integrity.
- Is appropriately positioned and adequately resourced.
- Demonstrates quality and continuous improvement.

Organisational responsibilities

To enable the HIA to fulfil their role the leadership team should:

- provide the HIA with the status, resources, expertise and systems necessary to perform their role effectively
- ensure the audit committee contributes to a performance framework for the HIA and the internal audit service and takes action as appropriate
- ensure an external review of internal audit quality is carried out at least once every five years in accordance with PSIAS
- ensure the audit committee provides support for and participates in the quality assurance and improvement programme as set out in PSIAS.

Core HIA responsibilities

To fulfil Principle 4 the HIA should:

- lead and direct the internal audit service so that it meets the needs of the organisation and external stakeholders and fulfils professional standards
- demonstrate how internal audit adds value to the organisation
- determine the resources, expertise, qualifications and systems for the internal audit service that are required to meet internal audit's objectives
- inform the leadership team and audit committee as soon as they become aware of insufficient resources to carry out a satisfactory level of internal audit, and the consequence for the level of assurance that may be given
- ensure the professional and personal training needs for staff are assessed and that these needs are met
- establish a quality assurance and improvement programme that includes:
  - ensuring professional internal audit standards are complied with
  - reviewing the performance of internal audit and ensuring the service provided is in line with the expectations and needs of its stakeholders
  - providing an efficient and effective internal audit service – demonstrating this by agreeing key performance indicators and targets with the line manager and audit committee; annually reporting achievements against targets
  - putting in place adequate ongoing monitoring and periodic review of internal audit work and supervision and review of files, to ensure that audit plans, work and reports are evidence-based and of good quality
  - seeking continuous improvement in the internal audit service
- keep up to date with developments in governance, risk management, control and internal auditing, including networking with other HIAs and learning from them, implementing improvements where appropriate.

Commentary

Meeting the needs of the business

Effective governance is critical in public service organisations and internal audit needs to play its part. The HIA must have a firm grasp and understanding of the organisation's business as well as its control environment. This will allow HIAs to give an opinion to the leadership team on how well these arrangements are working.

Whether internal audit is provided in-house, through a shared service or outsourced, the internal audit resources available must be proportionate to the size, complexity and risk profile of the organisation and must be enough for the HIA to give a reliable annual internal audit opinion on the organisation's framework of governance, risk management and control. Responsibility for ensuring that an effective and appropriately resourced internal audit service is in place rests with the organisation.

The HIA must set out the audit coverage and audit resources needed to give a sound, evidence-based annual audit opinion and must advise the audit committee and the leadership team where the available resources are inadequate and the consequences for the level of assurance that the HIA is able to give. Where concerns are raised by the HIA it is vital that they are listened to and the consequences understood.

Appropriately developed internal audit skills

A great deal of reliance is placed on the work of internal audit and the HIA must ensure all the work, including planning and individual assignments, is consistently of a high quality and in line with professional standards. The HIA must also ensure that all staff demonstrate the highest ethical standards. The HIA therefore has a responsibility to ensure that internal audit staff have appropriate qualifications, knowledge, skills and competencies and have access to development opportunities.

The HIA must provide clear guidance for internal audit staff with appropriate quality assurance for internal audit as a whole and for each audit assignment. The HIA has a duty to ensure their staff comply with the PSIAS and must have systems to verify this. More widely the HIA should ensure they and the team are up to date on current issues affecting their organisation and on internal audit techniques and developments.

\ principle 5

The HIA must be professionally qualified and suitably experienced.

The UK Public Sector Internal Audit Standards set out Core Principles for the Professional Practice of Internal Auditing which taken as a whole articulate internal audit effectiveness. The following core principles are of particular relevance for Principle 5 of the CIPFA Statement:

- Demonstrates competence and due professional care.
- Communicates effectively.

Organisational responsibilities

To enable the HIA to fulfil their role the leadership team should:

- appoint a professionally qualified HIA<sup>3</sup> whose core responsibilities include those set out in the PSIAS as well as under the other principles in this statement and ensure that these are properly understood throughout the organisation
- ensure the HIA has the skills, knowledge and internal audit experience, together with sufficient resources to perform effectively in the role
- support continuing professional development of the HIA.

Core HIA responsibilities

To fulfil Principle 5 the HIA should:

- be a full member of an appropriate professional body and have an active programme for personal professional development
- adhere to professional internal audit and ethical standards (and where appropriate accounting and auditing standards).

<sup>3</sup> PSIAS requires that the HIA must hold a professional qualification (CCAB, CMIIA or equivalent).

Commentary

Demonstrating professional and interpersonal skills

The HIA must be able to demonstrate their own professional credibility to exercise influence throughout the organisation. The HIA must be professionally qualified.

The HIA must adhere to the professional values of accuracy, honesty, integrity, objectivity, impartiality, transparency, confidentiality, competence and reliability and promote these throughout the internal audit service.

The HIA must be able to operate effectively in different modes including directing, influencing, evaluating and informing. The HIA must be able to give objective opinions and advice even if this may be unwelcome and to intervene with authority where necessary. The HIA must be able to challenge the status quo and be a catalyst for change, achieving results through influence, without direct authority.

The HIA must be sensitive to the complexities and pressures facing organisations.

Applying business and professional experience

The HIA must have an understanding and commitment to the organisation's wider business and its delivery objectives, to inspire respect, confidence and trust amongst colleagues, with the leadership team, audit committee and other stakeholders.

The HIA must have a good understanding of business processes and governance including strategic planning and performance, financial and risk management.

The HIA should be seen as a catalyst to improving governance and internal control and also supporting the organisation in its wider business objectives. The HIA's leadership must set the tone that good governance, risk management, and internal control matter to everyone in the organisation.

personal skills and professional standards

This section sets out the personal skills and professional standards of the HIA that are necessary to support the five principles in practice.

Principle 1

- Give clear, professional and objective advice.
- Report on what is found, without fear or favour.
- Demonstrate integrity to staff and others in the organisation.
- Exercise sound judgement in identifying weaknesses in the organisation's control environment and a balanced view on how significant these are.
- Work well with others with specific responsibilities for internal control, risk management and governance including (as appropriate to the sector) the chief executive, chief legal officer, chief financial officer, audit committee, non-executive directors and elected representatives.
- Work positively and constructively, influencing the leadership team, audit committee and others to ensure the HIA's recommendations are implemented.
- Be a role model – dynamic, determined, positive and robust. They should demonstrate resilient leadership and the ability to inspire confidence and exemplify high standards of conduct.

Principle 2

- Provide leadership by giving practical examples of good governance that will inspire others.
- Deploy effective facilitating and negotiating skills.
- Build and demonstrate commitment to supporting continuous improvement of the organisation.

Principle 3

- Network effectively to raise the profile and status of internal audit.
- Adopt a flexible style, being able to collaborate, advise and challenge as appropriate.
- Build productive professional relationships both internally and externally.
- Work effectively with the leadership team and audit committee, showing political awareness and sensitivity.
- Be seen to be objective and independent but also pragmatic where appropriate.

Principle 4

- Demonstrate leadership and be an ambassador for internal audit.
- Create, communicate and implement a vision for the internal audit service.
- Create a customer-focused internal audit service.
- Establish an open culture, built on effective coaching and a constructive approach.
- Promote effective communication within internal audit, across the broader organisation and with external stakeholders.
- Manage and coach staff effectively.
- Comply with professional standards and ethics.
- Require the highest standards of ethics and standards within internal audit based on the principles of integrity, objectivity, competence and confidentiality.

Principle 5

- Demonstrate a range of skills including communicating, managing and influencing, as well as an understanding of IT and consulting services.
- Understand and have experience of strategic objective setting and management.
- Understand the internal audit and regulatory environment applicable to public service organisations.
- Demonstrate a comprehensive understanding of governance, risk management and internal control.
- Undertake appropriate development or obtain relevant experience in order to demonstrate an understanding of the full range of the organisation's activities and processes.

definitions used throughout the document

The public services have a wide variety of organisational structures and governance arrangements. The definitions used in this document are primarily based on those used in CIPFA's Role of the Chief Financial Officer Statement and in the Public Sector Internal Audit Standards (PSIAS).

Annual governance report

The mechanism by which an organisation publicly reports on its governance arrangements each year.

Assurance

An objective examination of evidence for the purpose of providing an independent assessment on governance, risk management and control processes for the organisation.

Assurance can come from a variety of sources and internal audit can be seen as the 'third line of defence' with the first line being the organisation's policies, processes and controls and the second being managers' own checks of this first line.

Assurance framework

This is the primary tool used by a board to ensure that it is properly informed on the risks of not meeting its objectives or delivering appropriate outcomes and that it has adequate assurances on the design and operation of the systems in place to mitigate those risks.

Audit committee

The governance group charged with independent assurance of the adequacy of the risk management framework, the internal control environment and the integrity of financial reporting.

Board

The group of people charged with setting the strategic direction for the organisation and responsible for its achievement.

Chief financial officer

The organisation's most senior executive role charged with leading and directing financial strategy and operations.

Control environment

The attitude and actions of the board and management regarding the importance of control within the organisation. The control environment provides the discipline and structure for the achievement of the primary objectives of the system of internal control. The control environment includes the following elements:

- Integrity and ethical values.
- Management's philosophy and operating style.
- Organisational structure.
- Assignment of authority and responsibility.
- Human resource policies and practices.
- Competence of personnel.

Governance<sup>4</sup>

The arrangements put in place to ensure that the intended outcomes for stakeholders are defined and achieved.

Head of internal audit opinion

The opinion issued each year by the HIA on the overall adequacy and effectiveness of the organisation's framework of governance, risk management and control.

The opinion is used by the chief executive in some public service organisations as a key source in drafting the annual governance report.

Internal audit

Internal auditing is an independent, objective assurance and consulting activity designed to add value and improve an organisation's operations. It helps an organisation accomplish its objectives by bringing a systematic, disciplined approach to evaluate and improve the effectiveness of risk management, control and governance processes.

Leadership team

Comprises the board and management team.

Managers

The staff responsible for the achievement of the organisation's purpose through services/ businesses and delivery to its clients/customers.

Management team

The group of executive staff comprising the senior management charged with the execution of strategy.

Public service organisation

One or more legal bodies managed as a coherent operational entity with the primary objective of providing goods or services that deliver social benefits for civic society, are not privately owned and receive public and/or charitable funding.

Risk management

A process to identify, assess, manage and control potential events or situations to provide reasonable assurance regarding the achievement of the organisation's objectives.
